Meeting Opening

We are gathered here today at a place called Moh'kinsstis, a Blackfoot word that means elbow. The word describes the landscape of what is now known as Calgary, an area where the Elbow River meets the Bow River.

It is in the spirit of respect and truth that we honour and acknowledge Moh'kinsstis, and recognize the traditional territories and oral practices of the Blackfoot people, the Nakota people of the Stoney Nation, the Beaver people of the Tsuut'ina Nation, and the Métis Nation of Alberta, Region Three. This Library is one of 20 libraries across our city built on this traditional land. Finally, we acknowledge all people who make their homes in the Treaty 7 territory of Southern Alberta.

GOVERNMENT RELATIONS

At the meeting with the Provincial Officials at the Alberta Library Conference, Anthony Lemphers, the longtime Assistant Deputy Minister for Municipal Affairs asked if he could have a tour of the New Central Library. Since he was willing to make the trip specifically for this purpose, we arranged a tour for him and Diana Davidson on June 1st. Diana is the head of the Library Services Branch and she works with Anthony within the Municipal Affairs Department. The Province has not yet directly contributed to the project, so we may use this visit as an opportunity to explore provincial support for the facility in the area of Indigenous Services. We made a similar pitch last year when several Calgary based MLA’s toured the NCL construction site. While nothing came of that ask, we are reminded that the Edmonton Public Library received provincial and federal support for the renovation of their Central Library.

It is official and just in time as the Library wraps up the first part of our four-year strategic plan – The Calgary Public Library will be a line of service. The City of Calgary is organizing its budgeting and planning through a process called “One Calgary.” This process is guided by Directives from City Council which are used to set priorities. Library Services is now under one of those directives called “Prosperous City”. Given that the Library is so multidimensional, it also qualifies under the directives of a “City of Safe and Inspiring Neighborhoods” and the City’s effort to implement “Truth and Reconciliation.” The City will ask that the Library use the Results Based Accountability approach to show how it contributes to the Quality of Life Results that we looked at through our strategic planning process. Finally, there will be a template or “service page” in which the final budget will show how the Library and all units of Municipal Government contribute to “One Calgary.”
We were sorry to hear that Kurt Hanson will be retiring at the end of July. Kurt is the General Manager for Community Services with the City of Calgary. The Library as a Civic Partner has come under his Department. In his e-mail announcement to the Library he said “I have had the pleasure of working directly with the Civic Partners including the Calgary Public Library organization since 2000. This has been through periods of growth for the City and at times your organization as well as during decline for the city with the economic conditions and the challenge of flood waters. Through all of these years I have appreciated the passion and commitment of your organizations, both the Board and leadership team in providing valuable services to the citizens of Calgary which enhance their quality of life. I personally want to thank you for all you do to make Calgary a great Place to live and work.”

One of the things that Kurt and his folks have helped us with was the acquisition of “Engine 23.” More recently, with the support of Calgary Community Services, the Library has an agreement with The Hangar Flight Museum to move a helicopter into the new Seton Library. It will anchor the Early Learning Center at that new library. The helicopter is being moved next month and will be retrofitted for the early learning activities on the site.

OPERATIONS

The Calgary Public Library has an amazing partnership with the University of Calgary. We have reported in the past about our “Think Big” series with the folks from the Hotchkiss Brain Institute. In October, the University’s Library will be hosting a designing Libraries Conference which will include a tour of the New Central Library. In November, the University’s Humanities Department will be hosting a North American Conference of Humanities Conference at the New Central Library. Most recently, an “Idea Igniters” series that is sponsored by the University’s External Relations Department had a session for entrepreneurs at the Signal Hill Library. There was a good crowd at the event and they are planning to extend the series into next year.

In other partnership developments, our efforts to bring childminding service to the New Central Library got a boost from the YWCA. The YWCA is building a large, new, facility in Inglewood and looking for opportunities to work more closely with other community partners and extend their services into the community in order to reach more people. They are very excited about the possibility of expanding their childminding service model into a mobile, pop-up, service – which would be a great fit for the New Central Library. The service would be managed by the YWCA with the Library as the host venue and the target for the service would be to provide supports for parents/caregivers who may have been barriered and unable to participate in adult programming due to a need for childminding. As part of the pilot, specific adult programs would be identified to determine the need for a childminding program.

Numbers for April 2018 are generally strong. Notable is the fact that collection buying is up significantly, as we build collections for Seton Library and work towards a major refresh of collections for New Central Library. Print, copy and scan jobs are showing a decline. We have investigated the issue and it relates to a change in the servers from which the data is drawn. The transition has now been completed and we can confirm that early numbers for May show a healthy year over year increase, indicating that print, copy, and scan business at the Library continues to grow.
As reported last month, membership numbers are relatively flat, while significant plans are underway for a major summer membership growth initiative, not to mention the mass appeal that will be created by the opening of New Central Library in less than six months.

FEATURE NUMBER

In a recent evaluation study of the Library’s Early Learning Centres, over two hundred parents and caregivers were interviewed or surveyed.

- 64% reported that they have observed their children picking up new types of play since visiting the Library/ELC
- 54% reported that children in their care were asking to visit the Library

These results demonstrate that the ELCs are connecting children to the Library’s learning environment in meaningful ways, while introducing them to new imaginative play experiences that build early literacy skills. More information on this study will be shared at the upcoming Strategy and Community Committee Meeting.

For people coming to Central Library, Memorial Park, Nicholls Family or Louise Riley locations, security guards will be in a new uniform. A new security contractor called G4S will be providing security staff to the library. Most security guards with whom patrons are familiar have chosen to stay and work with G4S and it will be business as usual.

G4S Secure Solutions is a large multi-national security company including operations across Canada. They are a mid-size employer in the Calgary marketplace and have numerous clients including the City of Calgary. Some fresh new faces will be added with additional security members joining the team, including a new Security Team Lead, Dion.
As part of the Memorial Park Library activation, on Friday, April 20th, that Library was transformed into a mini-conference space for 75 and culture teachers from the Calgary Board of Education. With space set aside for public use, all floors of the Library were animated with Arts Jam sessions featuring Calgary Opera, Make Fashion, Quick Draw Animation, the Glenbow, and more. The Library, and specifically the Sun Life Financial Musical Instrument Library, were featured as a part of the event.

Collaborating with the CBE to host the arts event was intentional, as it allowed us to position ourselves with teachers and arts partners as an arts and culture hub.

Felt Arts Activity
The Ultimate Summer Challenge (USC) launched for promotion and registration on May 15th.

This is the Library’s largest program serving 20,000 kids, teens and families every July and August. The new format capitalizes on what the Library does best and amplifies it for the summer months when school is out, and more kids are available to come to our libraries.

This year’s comprehensive framework features the following elements:

1. Read and Discovery
   Our longtime partnership with the TD Summer Reading Club continues and children are encouraged to complete their Challenge Maps: 30 hours of reading time and 15 hours of Library time to earn fun prizes.
2. Explore, Play and Experiment
Nearly 40 community partners have been confirmed to present over 150 programs, performances and demonstrations.

3. Create & Investigate
Every week of July and August, library locations will host up to three bookable kits to help animate library spaces. Some bookable kits are self-directed while others are volunteer-supported, creating a great volunteer opportunity for teens in the summer.

4. Serving Vulnerable Populations
Weekly Summer Club programs have been developed with community partners and organizations at 3 library locations (Forest Lawn, Bowness, and Judith Umbach) for at-risk children aged 6 to 8. Registration in the clubs will be linked to Calgary Fee Assistance membership to ensure that the program is able to specifically support those kids who need and would benefit most from them.

5. Wonder
Five community libraries will be hosting large-scale installations on loan from partners such as Beakerhead and the Glenmore Sailing Club. Watch for a sailboat, tipi, giant metal fish and inflatable artichokes at locations near you! We hope these landmark attractions will encourage patrons to check out a Library location they have never been to.

A new initiative for the Community Volunteer Income Tax Program (CVITP) this year was the Tax time savings program a no-risk “low-touch” program that would see participants get up to $600 additional dollars if they can keep their money in a savings account for 1 year. This is an innovative program and the first of its kind in Canada. Our partner filed 801 tax returns in March/April CVITPs at libraries. In 2017, 8,445 returns (84% increase) were filed at 17 agencies representing $3.7 million in refunds.

Our Collections Department is following developments in artificial intelligence and talking to computers.

Google unveiled “Talk to Books,” a new tool which uses semantic search - search based on meaning, rather than mere keywords, and powered by the same Google conversational AI used to implement ‘smart’ email replies - to provide an entirely new way to explore books.

What happens when, for the first time in human history, books can be searched at the sentence level, rather than at the author or topic level? Using this tool, a user can input a statement or a question, and Talk to Books searches over 100,000 books for sentences which best provide a response. No dependence on keyword matching is involved. This is no quirky novelty Google released that will largely go unnoticed - this is a profound, almost shocking development that will have wide-ranging implications, starting from day one:
Similarly, the Vatican has recently announced a project to leverage both Optical Character Recognition and Artificial Intelligence technology to make their archives more discoverable. The project will involve scanning the archived documents to make them readable by an AI which then can search and retrieve information and passages which would otherwise be buried in these extensive holdings.

OTHER

It takes a library to make a star. Earlier this year we were requested to submit a letter of support for K.D. Lang to be inducted into the Alberta Order of Excellence. This came about from her support and appearance at the launch of the Musical Instrument Lending Library at the Memorial Park Library. We just learned that thanks to the letter from the Library and Board Chair, that Ms. Lang was named to the order and she will be invested later this fall.

MISSION MOMENT AND SEEDS OF CHANGE

There's a little preschooler who has been at Central Library a lot recently; his family are staying at Inn from the Cold. Two weeks ago, Dolly started sitting at the Lego table with him, talking with him about what he was building. By showing interest and asking him questions, Dolly got him to elaborate and come up with ever more complex narratives for his play. One day, Dolly wanted to see if he would look at a book with her; he wasn't interested but she sat beside him at the Lego table and read the book herself, just to model reading behaviour. Then suddenly, last weekend, he brought Dolly a book and asked her to read it to him. They sat and read one book, then another. His older sister asked what they were doing and then asked if Dolly would read a book to her too. They read four books altogether that day, the kids totally absorbed in every page. This experience highlighted how long it can take to develop trust with kids, and how with patience, we can plant those seeds of early literacy that entice them to seek books and reading.

I. Meeting Opening

We acknowledge the traditional territories and oral practices of the Blackfoot people, the Nakota people of the Stoney Nation, the Beaver people of the Tsuut'ina Nation, and the Métis Nation of Alberta, Region Three. This Library is one of 20 libraries across our city built on this traditional land.

II. Review of Agenda

The Agenda was approved with no changes.

III. Approval of Minutes

As Mr. Macaulay was the only attendee present at both this meeting and the April meeting, no motion was made to approve the minutes. They will be brought forward at the June meeting for approval.

IV. Capital Planning

Mr. Paul Lane, Director, Corporate Service

The Committee reviewed the Capital Planning report with Councillors Farrell and Woolley, discussing strategies on replacement of existing stand-alone libraries in older neighbourhoods and asking for the Councillors’ input on how to best position them for funding, bearing in mind The City’s focus on integrated facilities and joint use.

The Library’s top three priority projects are Louise Riley, Giuffre Family and Forest Lawn libraries. All three could integrate with other projects that are currently in development with the integrated facilities group at the City. Louise Riley has large-scale scheduled maintenance that moves it to the top of the list. The Councillors will meet with members of the Integrated Civic Facilities Project group to ascertain the status of the Library’s projects.

The Councillors excused themselves at 8:50 a.m.

V. Business Arising and Review of Action Items

A. Estimating Hours of Outreach

Mr. Mark Asberg, Director, Service Delivery

In response to the committee’s request at its meeting in April, this report presents the amount of time the Library devotes to outreach. Calculating outreach hours presents some difficulties, as outreach visits vary in duration from thirty minutes to several hours. On average, an outreach visit lasts approximately one hour, excluding preparation and travel time. The Committee requested that the report be presented to them annually, as it represents significant work effort on the part of the Library team members and points to the Library’s continuing efforts to expand its programs and services outside of traditional library buildings and hours.

B. Follow-up to Collections Report

This report was the result of a Committee request for a five-year review of Collections. Ms. Robertson reviewed the data with the Committee. Of note:

- A significant amount of material was lost in the 2018 flood and the follow up to remove these records from the database was a multi-year task
- In 2015, collections in every location were reviewed and reduced to remove dated and unused material and make room for other priorities
- Reference, government documents, and collections in subject areas such as career, finance and consumer health have largely shifted to digital formats
- The drop in the Canadian dollar has meant a loss of purchasing power
- New Central Library and Seton collections purchases are not included in the numbers presented.

VI. Quarterly Report on Outcomes
   Mr. Paul Lane, Director, Corporate Services

The Committee reviewed the Strategic Scorecard. Mr. Lane noted that there has been little change since the last report. The only indicator that is not on track to meet target is memberships. The original 800,000 membership goal was set with the expectation that the Seton and Sage Hill libraries would both be open at this time. It is assumed that they would have had an impact on membership numbers. Northweather, a digital consultancy firm, has been engaged to help in the creation of targeted membership campaigns. The Committee learned that an individual is no longer considered an active member if there is no activity in a three-year period.

A method of tracking average length of stay is currently under development. Anonymous cell phone tracking is being tested. The Committee was assured that there is no way for the Library to identify individuals and that it is a method frequently used by malls to track customer habits.

VII. Strategic Plan Development
     Mr. Paul Lane, Director, Corporate Services

Mr. Lane noted that the version of the strategic plan before the Committee was reviewed by the Library Foundation Board at their recent meeting and they had no changes to suggest. Mr. Mehta added that the plan and the scorecard were well received by the Foundation Board. The Committee discussed the process for submitting the Strategic Plan to The City, which has changed from previous years, and discussed potential risks and implications. As the process is new, it was concluded that these would have to remain largely unknown at this point.

The Committee also discussed Outcomes reporting and agreed that measures reporting will be done again in September and October. Approval will be done by the Board in January.

IX. Workplan

The Committee agreed to the following changes to the workplan:

Move Early Learning Centres to June Committee meeting
Draft Outcome Measures to be presented at September and October Committee meetings

The Committee will confirm its summer meeting schedule at the June meeting.

X. Adjournment

MOVED by Mr. Mehta that the meeting be adjourned at 9:31 am.

Transcribed by Kathryn Nikolaychuk
In Attendance:

Board
Ms. Shereen Samuels
Ms. Debra Giles
Mr. Rob Macaulay

Administration
Mr. Bill Ptacek, CEO
Ms. Heather Robertson, Director, Service Design
Ms. Mary Kapusta, Director, Communications

Regrets:
Ms. Janet Hutchinson
Mr. Avnish Mehta

I. Treaty 7 Opening

Ms. Samuels respectfully acknowledged that the Committee is meeting today at a place called Moh’kinsstis, a Blackfoot word that means elbow. The word describes the landscape of what is now known as Calgary, an area where the Elbow River meets the Bow River.

It is in the spirit of respect and truth that we honour and acknowledge Moh’kinsstis, and recognize the traditional territories and oral practices of the Blackfoot people, the Nakota people of the Stoney Nation, the Beaver people of the Tsuut’ina Nation, and the Métis Nation of Alberta, Region Three. This Library is one of 20 libraries across our city built on this traditional land. Finally, we acknowledge all people who make their homes in the Treaty 7 territory of Southern Alberta.

II. Review of Agenda

The Agenda was approved as presented.

III. Approval of Minutes

MOVED by Ms. Giles, that the minutes of the April 11, 2018 Governance Committee meeting be approved as written.

Carried Unanimously

IV. Business Arising from Minutes

A. Update: Collaborative Recruitment

In Ms. Hutchinson’s absence, this item was tabled until the June meeting.
B. Update: RFP for Recruitment Firm

The Request for Proposals has been posted and will close on May 22. The Board has requested a two-year contract with the option for two one-year renewals.

V. Update: Chair One-on-One Meetings

Three meetings have been completed and the remaining five have been scheduled.

VI. CEO Metrics Review

Two areas of change were suggested during the CEO Evaluation process: removal of the efficiency measure and new measures for the Media component. The Committee discussed with Ms. Kapusta the various types of media measurement available and agreed that the measures should be both quantitative and qualitative, closely tied to the new strategic plan and measurable year over year.

After discussion, it was agreed to remove the efficiency measure, but the Committee asked Administration to find a new way to measure Building and Retaining Leadership, the category under which the efficiency measure was found. The Committee suggests that while it need not be quantitative, it should be quickly and easily understood and align with/indicate long-term goals.

Both new measures should be ready before the January 2019 Governance Committee meeting.

VII. Role and Opportunities for the Board to Represent the Library

The Committee discussed the difference between this item and the Advocacy Plan that was developed by the Strategy and Community Committee. It was clarified that this item is a discussion point for the Board to look at development opportunities presented by their participation on the Library Board. It is also meant to remind Committee members to discuss expectations of participation.

The Committee agreed on the following points:
- Make event invitations to Board members more purposeful by taking into account member availability and interests
- Articulate the number of people that need to attend each event and details about the expected role(s)

I. Analysis and Recommendations for Self-Evaluation

The Committee reviewed the self-evaluation results, focusing on areas that showed that performance is dropping or that more Board members indicated that a problem is developing. They agreed that it was extremely difficult to complete an analysis or create a recommendation when no comments were given. It was agreed that the Board should discuss the results again, asking for comments and suggestions on process in the future. The Committee thought it would be wise that comments be mandatory on the self-evaluation survey if the response falls below the “usually” category, but would like to make this part of a larger Board discussion on process. To support discussion at the May Board meeting, Ms. Samuels will prepare a report grouping the problematic responses by theme and providing some recommendations.

The Committee also agreed that the basic Chair training included in the handbook should be reviewed and likely bolstered.

The Committee then discussed Board discussion, reporting and agendas. It was felt that perhaps some of the difficulty noted in the Self-Evaluation survey around Board discussion may be related to the agenda and the type of reports the Board receives as well as how they are discussed. Ms. Samuels noted that multiple people have raised the issue multiple times that the meetings are presentation-heavy. It was noted that the agenda was currently developed through a combination of Committee requests and management and was reviewed by the Vice-Chair and Chair. Any Board member is welcome to suggest a topic through Committee or to the ELT Liaison. It was suggested that perhaps reports could be made more relevant by making them more future and strategy oriented. The Committee will ask for 10 minutes of the Board’s time to discuss these matters.

II. Committee Workplan – as of April 24, 2016

The Committee made the following changes to the Committee workplan:

Add
Update Skills Matrix as a standing item

Rename
Change Role and Opportunities for the Board to represent the Library to Opportunities for Board Development
Change Analysis and Response of Board self-evaluation to Create Plan to Address Issues

Update
Chair’s One on One interviews – exit interview declined
CEO Annual Review – new metrics for media and Leadership to be developed by January 2019
Board Self-Evaluation Items 2,3,4 = COMPLETED, Item 5 – In Progress

The Committee agreed that proactive thought should be given to succession planning for the Board Chair.
III. Other Business

A. Policies provided for advance reading to prepare for discussion in June on Strategic Plan Alignment with Policies

The Committee will review and assess which policies, if any, require change to create alignment with the new strategic plan.

IV. Adjournment

MOVED by Ms. Giles, that the meeting be adjourned at 7:09 pm.

I. Methodology

In deciding which items represented patterns or trends in Board self-evaluation results, we decided to disregard outlying data represented by a single participant whose opinion was significantly different than general trends. We included all items that were issues for two or more Board members, causing a drop in satisfaction from last year’s data. We examined whether or not these specific questions had comments attached that would clarify the respondents’ intent, and found that there were none. Because there were no comments submitted in the problematic areas, we worked to create options to recommend to the Board in terms of addressing the issues identified. However, comments submitted in response to other questions might shed some light on the issues noted below, so they have been included where it appears relevant. Recommendations are grouped around several overlapping issues where appropriate.

Board comments:

Possibly related to “The discussions and debates at Board and Committee meetings are frank, open and constructive”, “I am knowledgeable about CPL’s programs and services”, and “My knowledge is sufficient to enable me to serve effectively as a Board Member”:

- I very often wonder if we strike the proper balance between Board member and staff member presence at the Board meetings. Sometimes it seems as if there isn’t a strategic reason for the number of staff members present (i.e. a corresponding agenda item or discussion topic).
- the Board appears to be quite ‘management-driven’; issues on the agenda all seem to be sourced and pursued as a result of what Bill and his team want us to focus on. Could we have a discussion at the next retreat around governance topics of importance to the Board?
• I would prefer fewer verbal reports; I value the time to prepare before meetings, and written content would help. Often staff have visual content, so sharing that even 24 hours ahead would be great.
• An opportunity to discuss some "blue sky" issues at the Board meeting.
• There are times when the minutes from committee meetings will be useful as a part of the Board package, especially when they are needed in the decision making process. I recognize that this would make the package quite large, but duplicate committee minutes would be useful to pick up at the Board meetings.
• I would like to interact and converse more frequently with my fellow Board members. I would like to spend more time at our libraries.
• Remembering that we are all "the smartest people" around the table. No one opinion should rise above others.
• a small amount of time within (some) meetings to be dedicated to winkle out new concerns, questions or ideas - one potential side-effect of Board stability is for it to get a little stale
• Better planning and discussion leading up to choosing the Chair, rather than it being completed at the Organizational meeting.
• The Committees are populated by whomever puts up their hand… maybe GovCom should debate some different ideas for running the Organization meeting to best meet the upcoming year’s objectives
• Better preparation (as in reviewing past decisions) and connecting them to current needs.

Possibly related to “The Chairs strive to utilize Board/Committee Members’ indicated interests, skills, and experience to the best of their ability” and “The Chairs manage meetings effectively”:
• The Governance Committee may consider introducing continuous improvement processes to Board governance. The introduction of the meeting evaluation tool, for example, helps put focus on the running of the meeting but should the Board chair or governance committee do something more with that feedback? The governance committee should also consider whether and how to make available governance and Board-related learning opportunities for the Board members.
• More of a plan to determine Chairs of committees
• Ensure that the agendas are set out with the right number of items to discuss - especially when staff (not ELT) are involved.
• The way that the committees are created. We should strategically consider where the best talents are placed and how to think about committee work as a multiple year commitment (in consideration not commitment), rather than year per year.
• More proactively involve myself in the committee work, so as not to fall into simply being responsive to pre-set meetings with pre-set agendas
• Ensure our work plans are sufficiently robust; we should full meeting schedules with no need to cancel meetings for lack of something to discuss, consider or act on.
• a small amount of time within (some) meetings to be dedicated to winkle out new concerns, questions or ideas - one potential side-effect of Board stability is for it to get a little stale
• More committee balance in membership. Each committee is an opportunity for learning and contributing. Not one person or agenda owns a committee.

I. PURPOSE

To obtain Library Board support for the inclusion of Fair Pricing for eBooks as a topic for discussion and consideration within the current review process of the Canadian Copyright Act.

II. BACKGROUND

Digital publishing is a complex issue and both publishers and public libraries have important roles to play in creating a vibrant book industry. The eBook publishing industry has been challenged to evolve its technology and business practices and determine how best to manage rights and deliver content. Libraries are working to adapt collection development practices to address changes in lending models while providing a rich selection of eBook materials to meet growing community demand. At times, the goals and interests of the respective sectors can be divergent, resulting in barriers to providing universal access to content in all its forms.

A particular example of this can be seen in the issue of fair pricing for eBooks. eBook pricing models established by publishers can be restrictive, often resulting in libraries paying 3 to 5 times the cost per book than consumers¹. Public libraries have been working to raise awareness of and address this issue in a number of ways over the years including:

- The launch of the ReadersFirst initiative in 2013, focused on improving e-book access and services for public library users in partnership with e-content vendors,
- The development of the Canadian Public Libraries for Fair eBook Pricing campaign, established to raise awareness of fair pricing for eBooks and encourage national dialogue; and
- Motions by Library Boards and City Councils requesting that the Department of Heritage and Industry Canada investigate current eBook pricing practices of multinational publishers as part of any reviews of the Copyright Act.

We have seen some change as a result of these initiatives, such as the implementation of a more flexible model for library eBooks by one publisher in 2015/2016. However, fair pricing for eBooks continues to be an important issue that libraries are monitoring and advocating for.

III. CURRENT OPPORTUNITY

In 2018, the federal government approved a review of Canada’s Copyright Act and the Canadian Federation of Library Associations (CFLA) are currently conducting cross-Canada consultations to ensure that issues of importance to libraries are considered and included in the review process. At a recent meeting of the Canadian Urban Libraries Council, member libraries were encouraged to be active supporters of this process and to advocate for the inclusion of information related to fair pricing for eBooks.

The Calgary Public Library recognizes the value and importance in working with authors, publishers and other public libraries to create an eBook environment that is beneficial for both creators and for readers. The review of the Canadian Copyright Act presents an important opportunity to support national discussions on this issue.

IV. RECOMMENDATION

That the Calgary Public Library Board support the inclusion of Fair Pricing for eBooks as a topic for discussion and consideration within the review process of the Canadian Copyright Act.
