Creating Spaces

Calgary Public Library is more than just a system of buildings spread throughout a city: each of our libraries is a community hub.

Calgary Public Library is committed to creating spaces that promote reading and provide room for dynamic and relevant programming and services.

We are pleased to offer great meeting spaces for the community for FREE.

Some restrictions apply. For complete details, visit librarymeeting.ca

Meeting Spaces

If you (or your community group) need a convenient place to hold a meeting, consider using one of Calgary Public Library's meeting spaces—FREE of charge.

Each meeting space comes with FREE wireless access. The booking includes table(s) and chairs (booking group is responsible for set up and take down), and a whiteboard with markers.

Meeting spaces must be booked in advance and require 48 hours notice of cancellation.

Conference/Event Bookings

Do you require a larger theatre-style space, complete with stage, lighting, sound system, and wireless access? Consider renting the 400-seat John Dutton Theatre. Located at Central Library on Macleod Trail in the heart of Calgary's downtown, John Dutton Theatre also features a great meet & mingle lobby, fully accessible washrooms, and a handy green room just off stage.
